RACHEL STAMP

MAY 2000

NEW CD FROM RAW POWER RECORDS

Från vänster till höger: Will Crewdson, David Ryder-Prangley, Shaheena Dax och Robin Guy .

Rachel Stamp was the coolest girl from the town of Dinas Powys, South Wales She was really tall, wore bizarre clothes and had mad hairstyles..... it was fitting that we named the band after her.....

Having released numerous singles throughout their career, Rachel Stamp released their debut album, Hymns For Strange Children in February this year to considerable critical acclaim. With a brand new single Monsters of the New Wave scheduled for release in May 2000, Dave, Will, Shaheena & Robin welcome you to the evolutionary Planet of Rachel Stamp.... A planet of utopia where glitter, dayglo hair colour, bowls, Joan Jett & (free) drinks rule; sport (apart from bowls) is evil (big no - nos all round for football), Oasis & Blur are non-entities and the new age lad phenomena is strictly banished into obscurity. So what then do this fop mopped four piece want out of life? In short, world domination by ANY which way they please. Formed by a chance meeting of David (Ryder-Prangley) and Will (Crewdson) at a Vanessa Paradis concert whereby the twosome swore to rid the world of the conservative British pop scene infiltrating the airwaves the world over. Having arrived at this momentous, life changing decision, the two recruited the shy and retiring figure that was to be known as Robin Guy and blurted their bitter-sweet porno pop, piano hell and space age heavy metal on the masses.... And there developed the tipsy turvy world of Planet Rachel Stamp. The line-up complete - the glitter-bombed, green-haired pop tart David on lead vocals & bass; sleek, cool, calm & collected Will standing tall on guitars; and the soon-to-come out of his East Sussex shell and become a master in networking field, Robin on the drum stool which simply had his name written all over it.With Shaheena Dax joining the band for permanent keyboard duties recently, intestella punk rock for the new millennium is Rachel Stamps chosen path to world domination and the wheels (and day-glo hair dye) are already oiled and in motion. Having been heavily involved with the brand new indie label - sedately entitled Bitch Vinyl - the band have already played with the likes of No Doubt, Korn and the legendary Cheap Trick, packed out infamous London venues known as the Underworld & the Barfly (a recent gig seeing the band turn away over 300 fans..) and garnered a mass following from the beautiful people of the world over (Tarrie B loves em!).Were gonna be as big as Madonna, assures the sneering frontman, then, were gonna release three triple albums and make politicians discuss pressing issues such as whats the best Aerosmith song ever? and make everyone grow up on a diet of Todd Rundgren and Joan Jett. So…here they are…on their new Scandinavian tour. Don't miss them. You have been warned.
